OLYMPIC COMPETITION FORMAT

The surfing competition at the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games consists of a men's and a women's event.

Each event consists of the initial and main rounds. The initial rounds are round 1 and round 2, and the main rounds are round 3, quarterfinals, semifinals and finals (bronze medal and gold medal matches).

In round 1, the 20 surfers are seeded into five heats of four surfers each based on their pre-competition seeding. The top two surfers from each heat advance directly to round 3 and the bottom two surfers advance to round 2.

In round 2, the 10 surfers who did not advance directly to round 3 have another opportunity to progress. Round 2 will contain two heats of five surfers each, with the top three surfers from each heat advancing to round 3. The fourth placed surfers from each round 2 heat are ranked 17th, and the fifth placed surfers are ranked 19th.

From round 3 onwards, all heats consist of two surfers (head to head), with the winning surfer advancing to the next round and the losing surfer being eliminated.

Round 3 consists of eight heats of two surfers. The winners from each heat qualify to the quarterfinals and the eight round 3 losers are ranked ninth.

The quarterfinals consist of four heats of two surfers. The winners from each heat advance to the semifinals and the four quarterfinal losers are ranked fifth.

The winners of each semifinal advance to the gold medal match and the losers advance to the bronze medal match.

DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE ISA WORLD SURFING GAMES AND THE OLYMPIC GAMES

The International Surfing Association (ISA) World Surfing Games is open to all national surfing federations who are eligible under the criteria and regulations of the ISA. Each eligible country enters as a team, and their individual surfers may compete in the Open Men, Open Women, and Aloha Cup divisions. At the completion of the event, each individual surfer receives a placing which accumulates points for their team, and the team with the most points is crowned the Team World Champion. The placing of World Surfing Games is currently used as a qualification for the Olympic Games.

Surfing at Tokyo 2020 is limited to 20 surfers per division with a maximum of two athletes per NOC. It is not open to all countries as is at the World Surfing Games, but it is open to all surfers who qualify through the Olympic qualification system, which is based on event results and season ratings.

CHANGES SINCE THE RIO 2016 OLYMPIC GAMES

Surfing is included on the Olympic Games programme for the first time at Tokyo 2020.

SPORT RULES AND PROCEDURES

Heat description

The duration of each heat ranges from 15-35 minutes and is based on several factors. The final decision on heat duration for each phase will be made by the technical director in advance of each competition day.

Each surfer is trying to maximise their scoring potential by surfing to the judging criteria within the time limit of the heat. Every wave is rated by a panel of five judges on a scale of 0.1 to 10.0 points. For every scoring ride, the highest and lowest scores (of the five judges) are discarded and the surfer receives the average of the remaining three scores. The two best scoring waves are added together to become a surfer's heat total (out of a possible 20 points), and the surfer with the highest heat total wins the heat.

A wave limit will be defined by the technical director for each competition day. This defines the maximum number of waves that a surfer can ride during a heat.

The priority of surfers in the water is determined by a priority judge.

Judging criteria

Each heat is judged by a panel of five judges who score every wave ridden by each athlete. The highest and lowest judges' scores for each wave are discarded, and the average of the three remaining scores is the athlete's score for that wave. An athlete's heat total is the sum of their two best scoring waves during that heat.

Judges analyse the following elements when scoring waves:

- Commitment and degree of difficulty
- Innovative and progressive manoeuvres
- Combination of major manoeuvres
- Variety of manoeuvres
- Speed, power and flow

Judging scale

- 0.1 - 1.9 = Poor
- 2.0 - 3.9 = Fair
- 4.0 - 5.9 = Average
- 6.0 - 7.9 = Good
- 8.0 - 10.0 = Excellent

Tiebreak rules

If two or more surfers are tied at the end of a heat, ties will be broken as follows:

- Highest single wave score during the heat;
- Highest total of three wave scores during the heat (then four waves, five waves, etc.);
- The heat will be re-tabulated using all the scores from the five judges (instead of three judges) for the surfers involved in the tie;
- If a tie cannot be broken, then a re-surf involving the tied surfers will be required.

Penalties/disqualification rules

In surfing, an interference is called when the majority of the judging panel feels that there has been a hindrance of scoring potential for a surfer with right of way. The right of way is defined by the rules of the competition in accordance with the interpretation of the individual judge.

A surfer may be penalised by the judges during a heat as follows:

Non-priority interference:

- Paddling - the surfer's score for their second-best scoring wave is halved
- Riding - the surfer's score for their second-best scoring wave is halved, and the wave on which the interference occurred is scored zero points

Priority interference:

- Paddling - the surfer's score for their second-best wave is scored zero points
- Riding - the surfer's second-best scoring wave is scored zero points, and the wave on which the interference occurred is scored zero points

In the case of a second interference from the same surfer in a heat, the following penalties will be applied in addition to the penalties of the first interference:

Non-priority:

- Paddling - the surfer's score for their best scoring wave is halved and the surfer must leave the water immediately
- Riding - the surfer's score for their best scoring wave is halved, the wave on which the interference occurred is scored zero points and the surfer must leave the water immediately

Priority:

- Paddling - the surfer's best scoring wave is scored zero points and the surfer must leave the water immediately
- Riding - the surfer's best scoring wave is scored zero points, the wave on which the interference occurred is scored zero points and the surfer must leave the water immediately

Please see ISA rulebook for further analysis and details of the interference rules.

Protests/appeals

Any competitor, manager or coach has the right to protest the result of a heat due to different reasons (i.e. heat timing, interference directly attributable to an officiating error, missed wave, etc.), however no protest can be lodged against a scoring decision.

Protests must be in writing and must be submitted to the contest director by the team manager or team coach within 15 minutes of the heat results being posted.

If a protest is successful, the results of the heat may be adjusted, or the heat may be re-surfed.
